BIG SHAKE-UP IN PASSENGER TRAINS ON L. & N. SYSTEM

Now Is Time For Action in the Matter of Restoring Morning Train on Maysville Division.

For some time rumors have been going the rounds of a big shake-up in passenger service on the L. & N. Railroad, and a bulletin posted Saturday at Paris gives the details of these changes.

Instead of the train leaving here at 5:30 a. m. going through to Louisville as now, it will run only to Paris and return at 9:30 a. m., and will leave again in the afternoon at 3:35, returning at 8:50 p. m. Making two round-trips a day.

The train that now operates between this city and Stanford will be discontinued.

A new train will be put on to run between Paris and Lexington, which will connect with the trains from this city both morning and afternoon.

Another train will be put on to run between Cincinnati and Winchester, via Lexington, as a fast line, and will go from Winchester to Stanford as an accommodation train.

In connection with this shaking up of the passenger service on the L. & N., wouldn't it be a good idea for those officials who have charge of the making up of these trains to consider the Maysville branch just a bit more and restore the train service it took off because of war time needs for equipment? In other words, to give Maysville branch the early morning train service it enjoyed by restoring the train that arrived here at about 7:40 in the morning and left late in the afternoon.

Suppose our Chamber of Commerce and business met get together and make a request of the L. & N. officials while they are in the changing mood, to restore this train that they promised to do some time ago.

COME ACROSS.

September 1st we will place all accounts for collection. If you can't pay your bills now what do you expect to do when money gets to be worth something? We don't intend to pay a collector but expect you to pay the court if you are worth the costs.

Mr. Ralph Clark and Mr. Earl Todd, of this city, left this morning to visit relatives and friends in Cincinnati.

Only three more Sundays until vacation season will be over, and then we can start September out with a determination to make the Mason county Sunday schools larger and better than ever before. Try this week to enlist someone to attend next Sunday, do some personal work for the Sunday school.

The success of a Sunday school rests largely with the pastor, superintendent and teachers. If they are efficient, trained workers, who can give their pupils something when they come they will come again. Let's put our heart, heads and hands to work. Train your workers, seek God's help, and your Sunday school is bound to grow.

I want to thank those that gave me the attendance so promptly. Phone your attendance to Mr. Richardson next Sunday.

YAZELL LEADS IN RACE FOR CONGRESS; BARBER IS SECOND

Figures Obtainable This Afternoon Show Maysville Man Winner With Few Mountain Counties Missing From the Count.

Although returns are coming in very slowly from the Republican Primary in the Ninth congressional district, from what is obtainable it is plainly seen that the race is very close between Dr. W. S. Yazell, of this city, and Omer Barber, of Owingsville, Bath county. The best information that can be obtained here shows Dr. Yazell leading Barber by nearly 300 votes with several mountain counties still missing.

Dr. Yazell's strongest race was run in Mason and Lewis counties. The former gave him a vote of 923 with all precincts reporting, while the State of Lewis gave him a vote of 500 as against 71 for his nearest opponent.

Returns received by the Louisville Courier-Journal with Greenup, Lewis, Elliott and Wolfe counties missing give Barber 1606; Yazell 1386; and Blair 975. Adding to these figures the 500 votes received by Yazell in Lewis and adding 89 votes gained by Yazell in Mason county today gives him a total of 1975. Adding Barber's 71 in Lewis county to his total of 1606 it gives him a total of 1677. These figures give the local man a lead over Barber of 298 votes.

Of the counties missing in the Louisville figures Greenup is conceded Osborn to be his home county, Elliott is conceded to Danville, it being his home county and Judge Blair is supposed to carry Wolfe. On the face of these figures Dr. Yazell is a winner.

There are several precincts still missing in Nicholas, Harrison and Robertson counties which are expected to increase Dr. Yazell's vote considerably or at least enough to take care of the scattering vote Barber will receive in the counties which have been conceded to the other candidates.

Barber received his heaviest vote in Bath and Fleming counties. Dr. Yazell carried Mason, Lewis, Bracken, Robertson, Nicholas and Harrison counties.

MASON LOYAL TO YAZELL.

Although Mason county Republicans were highly unaccustomed to a primary election and it was very hard to get out the vote, the Republicans of Mason county were certainly loyal to their candidate giving Dr. Yazell a total vote of 923 as against 24 for Davis, 12 for Barber, 6 for Osborne, 11 for McKee and Blair 34, or a plurality of 836 votes over all other candidates combined. The Sixth ward of the city of Maysville was the banner ward giving the Doctor 109 votes.

Other banner precincts in nearby counties were Tollesboro in Lewis which gave the Maysville man 83 votes out of 100 cast and Burtonville which gave him 82 votes out of 88 cast while Concord gave him 48 votes out of 55 cast. Fern leaf and Plugtown in this county cast all of their votes for Yazell.

Considering the fact that Mason county Republicans are unaccustomed to a primary election Dr. Yazell has been highly complimented by his own home county and this splendid vote of 923 in a quiet primary shows his strength in his home county and the strength he can develop in the general election.

PURSE CONTAINED MARYSVILLE CHECKS.

The Covington news in the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

"Mrs. Maud Sterenberg, collector for the Volunteera of America, an organization founded by Ballington Booth for the purpose of providing homes for women, establishment of free day nurseries and hope halls for former convicts, reported yesterday she had lost her purse when in a street car between Fourth and Walnut streets, Cincinnati, and Pike street and Madison avenue, Covington.

The purse contained $14 in money and a number of checks drawn on the Mayaville (Ky.) Bank in favor of the society. The finder is requested to call South 918X.

Mr. Day engaged in a heated argument with Mr. Harry L. Walsh, who through contract is closing up the business of one of the company's stores, which had been sold to Mr. O. L. Autio.

SCHOOL POPULATION OF STATE LITTLE CHANGED

Mason County Has 2,764 School Children According to Census Just Made Public.

Frankfort, Ky., August 8. The scholastic census, taken this year in all the counties and every city excepting the four of the second class—Covington, Newport, Lexington and Paducah—shows a total scholastic population, including estimates in the four cities of 642,221, practically unchanged from last year.

Five county leads in the number of school children outside the independent cities with 13,850. Only eighty-nine of these are negroes. Martin, McCreary and Morgan have no negro school children.

The census shows 2,764 school children in Mason county and a total of 1,262 in the City of Maysville.

Neighbor counties have a school population as follows:

Bracken, 2,473; Fleming, 3,959; Lewis, 4,349; Robertson, 834.

MASON FARMERS TO CONSIDER CROP ON NEXT SATURDAY

Mass Meeting of Mason County Farmers To Be Held Here Next Saturday Afternoon to Select Delegates To Tobacco Meeting.

It was announced this morning that a mass meeting of all the farmers of Mason county would be held on next Saturday afternoon at the Mason county courthouse for the purpose of considering the matter of cutting out or reducing next year's tobacco crop.

The chief purpose of Saturday's meeting will be to select delegates to represent Mason county at a meeting of the various other Burley tobacco counties of the state to be held at Lexington soon and to ascertain the feelings of the Mason county farmers in regard to the next tobacco crop.

Tobacco growers from all over Kentucky are now considering means of reducing the tobacco crop in order to bring the prices of looseleaf to a higher plane and this will most certainly interest every tobacco grower and tenant in all of Mason county. It is expected, therefore, that next Saturday afternoon's meeting will be very largely attended by farmers from every precinct in the entire county.

A BILLION TO THE BAD.

If the Republican tariff act in effect in 1913 had remained on the statute books the revenues of the United States would have been $1,200,000,000 ahead of what they are today, declared Representative William E. Andrews, of Nebraska, in speaking recently on the results of Democratic party policies. The Underwood tariff reduced the customs revenues $100,000,000 the first year. "The shortage was to be replaced by a like return from an income tax," said Mr. Andrews. "Under the first provision for an income tax enacted by a Democratic Congress the returns were about $67,000,000. A Democratic Secretary of the Treasury threw out his dragnet over the country to catch the millionaires and round them up with funds sufficient to supply the treasury and thus prevent a deficit. The $100,000,000 did not come and as a result Congress was called upon for some more legislation and enacted war taxes in times of peace."

The United States is now living within its income, according to the report of the Secretary of the Treasury for the fiscal year which ended June 30. The report shows that the income of the Government exceeded disbursements by $291,221,547, an income which might readily have been turned into deficit amounting to $648,470,994.97, according to Representative Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, if the Republican Congress had accepted the estimates of the administration for the expenses of the Government during the year. The same report of the Secretary of the Treasury shows that since the Republican party has been in majority in Congress the public debt has been reduced $2,297,380,180. Further reduction in the expenses of the Government and in the public debt is promised during the present year by the action of the Republican Congress in saving $1,174,422,602.16 below the estimates of the present administration.

When the Republican Congress convened a year ago the War Department had immense stocks of canned foodstuffs in storage purchased prior to the armistice for the maintenance of the Army. These enormous supplies the War Department purposed at first to dispose of in Europe, according to the statement of Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, who claimed that there was "only a limited market in the United States." The Republican Congress promptly passed a resolution directing the War Department to place these goods on sale in the United States. After months of delay and grudging compliance with the law, the War Department now announces that it will dispose of the remainder of these commodities. Canned corned beef, corned beef hash, roast beef and bacon to the value of $25,000,000 are now being disposed of in various sections of the country within reasonable hauling distance of the retailers and wholesalers in every community. The prices are below pre-war quotations.

According to Representative William J. Graham, chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, the surplus food held by the army in the United States following the armistice was valued at 100,000,000. "The War Department had entered into tentative agreements with the packers," he states, "not to put this food upon the market and were using every method to dispose of it, by feeding it to the soldiers or otherwise, so that it should not be sold to the people. As a result of the resolution passed by a Republican Congress $57,000,000 of this food was sold prior to the recent announcement of the War Department placing $25,000,000 of these goods on sale."

"WHAT HE PROMISED—"

Cox, who is absolutely at one with the President, is as forceful as the President in giving assurance of fulfillment of pledges, though he uses different language. The Wilson assurance was that "our platform pledges are not molasses to catch flies; they are made to be kept while in office as well as to be relied upon during the campaign." And he proceeded to break practically every pledge the platform made. Mr. Cox says, "the platform of the Democratic party is a promissory note. I shall see that it is paid in full." Possibly some of Mr. Wilson's molasses will get smeared on the note so that it will be illegible by 1921. But that is immaterial; the country is not going to call upon Mr. Cox to fulfill any pledges.

AMONG THE HOME FOLKS.

As a vote getter among people who know him personally, Senator Harding is probably without a peer. In the county in which he spent his boyhood and where the people are most familiar with his record in his dealings with his fellow men, Mr. Harding received 2,411 votes to 233 for his opponent, or a majority of more than nine to one. In his old home precinct he received the vote of every citizen who went to the polls. Senator Harding has demonstrated that there are exceptions to the old rule that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country.

BECKHAM'S BITE.

Senator Beekham of Kentucky has promised Candidate Cox a sweeping state victory in November. To make that promise good the Democratic party must overturn a majority of 40,000 given the Republican candidate for Governor last year. The Kentuckians are very well satisfied with the administration which Governor Morrow has given them, and they are fighting mad respecting the Wilson-Cox plan to internationalize the United States. So Beekham appears to have bitten off more than he can chew.

Hanney County (Ore.) News.—Great Britain has plenty of money to send to Argentina to build up her trade in competition with the United States, but she has no funds with which to pay the interest on her debt to America.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS,

Viscount Cave, who is to deliver the annual address at the coming meeting of the Canadian Bar Association, has displayed great ability in a variety of directions since he achieved distinction as a student at Oxford, and apart from legal prominence has played an important part in public affairs in Great Britain. His public career began with his election to the House of Commons in 1900. He succeeded Sir F. E. Smith as Solicitor-General in the Coalition Government when the latter became Attorney-General and then became home secretary in Mr. Lloyd George's ministry. He is a Londoner by birth, and was educated in Merchant Taylor's school. Later he went up to Oxford, where he had a brilliant classical career. Upon leaving the university he studied law, and has had a highly successful career at the chancery bar.

BROTHER STAYS IN JAIL WHILE SISTER MARRIES.

New York.—John O'Connor, a veteran of the world war, who was gassed and otherwise disabled, faced Magistrate Nolan in night court on a charge of disorderly conduct. Alice O'Connor, a sister, caused his arrest. She told the magistrate that O'Connor had come to their home and had wrecked the furniture and otherwise made himself disagreeable.

"And why did he do all this?" the magistrate asked.

"I'm going to be married," said Miss O'Connor, "and he objects to the marriage."

The magistrate considered for a minute, then held O'Connor without bail for appearance in night court.

"That will enable you to get married without interference," said the judge.

Production of important crops will exceed that of last season, with the exception of wheat; the aggregate production will be in excess of all domestic demands. The average yield per acre is larger than for some years; the quality is excellent, and the shortage in the acreage has been more than overcome. In the past two months there has been a complete reversal of the dismal forebodings that attended the plantings under climatic restrictions; ideal weather conditions have turned the prospect of partial failure into bountiful harvests, and promise of still better return in the crops that come to harvest later in the season.

THE PROPER COURSE

Information of Priceless Value to Every Maysville Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ill of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Maysville citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Ben P. Fleming, constable of Mason Co., 217 E. Lee St., Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years, getting them at Wood & Son's Drug Store, and they have been of great benefit. At times my kidneys have been out of order and I have suffered from a dull, constant ache through the small of my back. The kidney secretions have been irregular in passage, too. began this spring under the worst conditions experienced in some years. The winter cold prolonged well into March, with the ground frozen beyond penetration by plough and disk, restraining the early spring work of soil preparation in the northern portion of the country, while almost continuous rains drenched the southern states, keeping the planter out of the fields. The slow drifting away of the chill winter was followed by very slow rising temperatures, generally below the seasonal average, the rain area spread to the Eastern and Central states, and further set back the need farm work. The planting of oats and spring wheat was uniformly two to for weeks late, and corn on the average three weeks later over the whole country. Cotton went in late, and into a chill, wet soil, and average a month late throughout the belt.

Decreased acreage was the natural consequence of the late plantings and seedlings. The acreage of spring wheat fell off 3,551,000; winter wheat was reduced by the dry late fall and the winter kill 14,700,000 acres, making a loss of 18,500,000 acres, or 22 per cent. in the main breadstuff supply of the country. To this loss was added 1,500,000 acres less in oats. The late season prevented the farmer from making up the loss in wheat and oats by an increase in corn—the last planted of the important crops, the gain being only 1,500,000 acres. Curiously, in the cotton states, the acreage of that staple was increased 500,000 to the loss of food and feed acreage, the high prices being relatively higher in cotton.

Despite the shortage of 18,500,000 acres in the food and feed crops, the prospect is for a larger total yield of the harvest fields than last season. There will be a decline in the total wheat yield, the area lost being too great to overcome through the increased yield. The feed stuffs, oats and corn, will be abundant compared with last season. The former is still in the making, while oats are safely made and largely harvested. The miracle-working weather completely reversed the poor outlook at the start of the growing season, and under the stimulation of cool weather the plants fruit better than in the seasons when warm springs were succeeded by burning June and July days. The season has been somewhat identical to that prevailing in western Europe, where yields are always higher than in this country. The total volume of food and feed, including potatoes, which are measured by the bushel, indicated by our reports for this season is 6,037,000,000, which is 235,000,000 bushels more than the final harvest last season. On an acreage eight per cent, less, four per cent, more product will be secured. The average yield is 12 per cent, better, and equal to the high averages of the past.

As a first step in carrying out the provisions of this appropriation, which became effective July 1, 1920, an examination was conducted as to the availability of certain National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, which have been established throughout the country.

Later, at a conference between General Wood, President of the Board of Managers of the National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and the War and Navy Departments, and transferred to their credit for disbursement by them for the purpose set forth in this paragraph. The allotments to the said Board of Managers shall also include such sums as may be necessary to alter or improve existing facilities in the several branches under its jurisdiction, so as to provide adequate accommodations for such beneficiaries of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance as may be committed to its care.

As a first step in carrying out the provisions of this appropriation, which became effective July 1, 1920, an examination was conducted as to the availability of certain National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, which have been established throughout the country.

At the present time there are approximately 17,625 War Risk patients in hospitals; 7,930 of whom are in U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals and 9,645 in hospitals and other institutions not owned or operated by the Government. Some nine hundred hospitals in the United States are now included in the list of those housing War Risk patients, the number of patients assigned to each hospital ranging from one to several hundred.

If the number of patients continues to increase at the present rate, by the end of the fiscal year there will be approximately thirty thousand War Risk patients in hospitals.

These patients who have become disabled by reason of their military or naval service and who are, therefore, provided for under the War Risk Act, are classified in three divisions, as surgical and general, as tuberculous and as mental cases. The difficulties to be coped with in the treatment and care of mental cases exceed those to be encountered in the care of tubercular patients, who in turn must be given the specialized treatment necessary to combat that disease, and the proper segregation of patients in these classes, as well as the surgical and general patients, is to be accomplished only in hospitals owned and operated by the Government. It is designed that the sanatorium treatment of mental cases which is being organized, through the administration of the War Risk appropriation, shall become the leading institution of its kind in America, and that the two sanatoriums to be devoted exclusively to the care and treatment of tuberculosis patients shall be of the highest type in construction and equipment.

By securing the existing hospital facilities of the War and Navy Departments and the National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers there will be available in the army hospitals approximately four thousand beds, in the Navy Department approximately four thousand beds, and in the National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers approximately six thousand beds. These together with the approximately fifteen thousand hospital beds of the U. S. Public Health Service, which are already available or are to be made available, will aggregate approximately twenty-nine thousand beds in hospitals owned and operated by the Government.

The item in the Sundry Civil Bill which carries this appropriation reads as follows:

"Medical and Hospital Services: For medical, surgical, and hospital services, medical examinations, funeral expenses, traveling expenses, and supplies, for beneficiaries of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, including court costs and other expenses incident to proceedings heretofore or hereafter taken for commitment of mentally incompetent persons to hospitals for the care and treatment of the insane, $46,000,000. This appropriation shall be disbursed by the Bureau of War Risk covering the fiscal year 1920-1921 and provided for under this appropriation, for the care and treatment of all those who have become War Risk patients by reason of their military service during the recent World War.

RECIPES OF OUR PIONEER MOTHERS

For the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. True, they knew nothing of drugs, but owed their success to the roots, herbs and barks of the field. It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these recipes. Its fame has now spread from shore to shore, and thousands of American women, now well and strong claim they owe their health and happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

COLORED CITIZENS.

Rev. Jackson, of Hamilton, Ohio, will preach at Bethel Baptist Church tonight under the auspices of the Sunday school. They are making efforts to raise money to send a representative to the General Association, which convenes Wednesday morning, August 11, at Paducah, Ky. Come hear this eminent divine. He preached a wonderful sermon Sunday morning.

To Whom It May Concern.

I wish to make the statement that from now on I shall have no connection with the raising of funds, or helping in any way, to aid the boys and girls of this community to gain a higher education here, or elsewhere, with or under the management of the committee formed by the proposal of Prof. Wm. H. Humphreys of the Maysville Colored High School. Having been made chairman of the committee and being unable to have a meeting of the entire committee at any of the three times called, it is my belief that I am bettering myself by withdrawing absolutely.

RUGGLES CAMP

(By J. H. RICHARDSON.)

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 8. After an all-night rain this last Sunday morning dawned most unfavorably. The Board of Directors felt rather blue over the outlook. And the weather has been threatening all day with occasional showers. But we have had almost an average last-Sunday crowd. We have come to believe that those are coming here rain or shine.

Despite the rain the grounds soon got in good shape and have been very nice all day. The crowd has been a very orderly one. The tabernacle was filled at every service, and at this afternoon's service when the children sang the tabernacle was filled to overflowing and great crowds standing round the outside.

After hearing Dr. Miller preach we are fully persuaded that the preaching this year, taken all in all, has been the best we have ever had. The whole program of the campmeeting has been of higher order than usual.

The day began with the usual early prayer service led by Mr. John Walsh. Mr. G. N. Harding led an enthusiastic praise service. At 10:30 Dr. Miller gave one of the greatest sermons ever preached on Ruggles campgrounds. His audience sat spell-bound with the power of the message. His subject was "A Separated Life," the burden of his sermon being a plea for Christians to come out entirely from the world and live wholly for God. Mrs. Miller, wife of the preacher, sang a beautiful and touch solo before the sermon.

For the afternoon service Dr. Jolly was the preacher. It is needless to say that we had a fine sermon—always do when Dr. Jolly preaches. The music was furnished by the children, more than one hundred of them occupying places on the platform. And they sang as beautifully, if noted, as an angel choir would sing. Following their program of song the "Apollo" quartet (that's what Rev. Harrop has dubbed our male quartet) sang two selections, one being "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" for which requests had been made.

At the closing service this evening Dr. Miller again preached a sermon that was a fitting close to the splendid series enjoyed during the campmeeting. At the close of the sermon a touching appeal was made for the living of better lives and be ready next year for a better campmeeting even than the present one has been. Many testimonies were given as to the good the meetings had done and the great blessings received. During the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" all came forward for a final handshake and goodbye. The benediction was then said by Dr. Miller.

The Board of Directors will meet

Monday morning to close up the business for the year and to lay some plans for the coming year. With the continued success of the campmeeting the board will go forward with confidence, feeling that their efforts are appreciated and will be rewarded by continued attendance and support of the campmeeting.

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 7. Another rainy Saturday! What's wrong with the weather, anyway? This morning the weather looked as if we were in for a fine Sunday, but this afternoon the camp is again deluged with water from one of the hardest rains of the season. Surely a dark outlook for the last Sunday. But we'll hope for the best. If it will just quit before midnight the grounds will be all O. K. for the last big day. We are not superstitious but last night a black cat walked right across the tabernacle platform. Was that a sign of another rainy Sunday?

This last week day has been rather quiet. Many of the young people are out on pleasure trips. However, all services have been very well attended.

The chief event of the day was the demonstration by the children. This is a regular event on Saturday when Miss Hurd has charge. This year just 66 children were in the grand march. The little folks were all decorated for the occasion and created quite a lot of interest as they marched about the camp singing songs and otherwise entertaining the campers. They were cheered time and time again. You may know that the chief cheer leader was Rev. F. W. Harrop, who after they were through, marched the whole company to the confectionery and treated them to ice cream cones. Then it was the time for the children to give many cheers for Rev. Harrop. And not only for him but for their leader, Miss Hurd, Rev. Ashby, and for the gables campmeeting. We said early in the campmeeting in these notes that this place was a real "kiddies paradise." It is growing more so each year. Parents are just realizing what a fine place it is for their children. Some are even thinking of remaining here until school begins. Then again parents have come to realize that the camp Board is providing such instruction for the children as they receive from Miss Hurd, is doing all that can possibly be done for the children's welfare.

Ruggles Campmeeting has long been noted as a place for good fried chicken. This year many of the campers have had an additional luxury. Strawberries! Think of strawberries right off the vine in August! That's just what the campers have been enjoying. For this luxury the campers are indebted to Mr. T. R. Colburn of the Tolinboro county who has twice during the meetings brought a supply of his everbearing strawberries to the camp. He disposed of a whole crate today at thirty cents per quart. Mr. Colburn tells us that these berries are much better than those that bear annually and if properly cultivated will bear until freezing time. He claims to have had strawberries on Christmas eve. As a novelty-maker these berries are far superior to the annuals. He has had many calls for the plants by others who wish to try them. He states he has a large supply for any who might wish to try them.

Rev. E. R. Overley led the early prayers and Rev. A. P. Smith preached a great sermon for us this morning. It was with much regret that we had to part with these two popular preachers so soon, but both had to fill Sunday appointments, and so left the camp early in the afternoon.

Rev. Harrop conducted the final young people's service at 3 p.m. He gave a most interesting talk on the mountain problem of Kentucky. Those who know Bro. Harrop and heard him on this topic know that he is thoroughly familiar with it, speaking from first-hand information. He is able to put the facts in such an entertaining and yet so such a convincing manner that it is good to hear him. These services under his leadership have proven very helpful this year.

A very nice sized congregation braved the rain and mud tonight to attend the service. Rev. Lillard taught the sermon. The Sunday teacher, with his wife, Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Miller, of Ashland, having arrived during the afternoon, were present at the evening service. At the conclusion of the sermon Dr. Miller was introduced and gave an earnest plea for the unsaved and for the prayers of all for a great day tomorrow, the last day of the campmeeting.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott Young and children came out today to remain over Sunday.

Mr. John H. Bryant, of Portsmouth, is visiting his nephew, Mr. A. T. Warden, near the campground and is taking in the meetings.

Mrs. R. P. Moody came out today to spend the last Sunday at the meetings.
